

PLACE APPARATUS FOR PLAY GROUNDS

New Amusement Devices for Kiddies.
Installed in Yard at Lincoln
School Finest in Tri-Cities.

IRVING TO HAVE IMPROVEMENT

Movement to Encourage Healthful
Sports By Providing Equipment
Meeting With Favor.

Work was finished today on the play grounds of the Lincoln school with the installation of new apparatus. The play grounds is considered the finest in connection with a school in the tri-cities.

Frank S. McCall, principal of the Lincoln school, has superintended the installation of the apparatus. The apparatus which was supplied by the Parent-Teacher association of the school, was purchased with funds derived from bakery sales held by the association last spring.

The play ground is equipped with a 35-foot solid bottom slide. It can be used by several youngsters at once, due to the extraordinary length of the incline. There is also a 35-foot parallel pole slide suspended from a central ridge pole placed 14 feet above the ground. To the ridge pole is attached three climbing poles, each 14 feet in length. Three pairs of flying rings and a turning bar will furnish means of exercise for the larger boys of the school. Lads who cherish ambitions to become sailors will find good rigging and seamanship practice on the flexible ladder which will offer chance of many difficult feats in climbing not experienced on shipboard. For girls and smaller boys there will be four swings to furnish amusement.

Have Giant Stride.
A giant stride completes the equipment. This consists of a number of ropes suspended from an iron ring fastened to the top of a large center pole. Several children can take hold of the ropes and, running at top speed are swung outward by the centrifugal force exerted by their weight at the end of the ropes.

This furnishes a miniature, self-propelled merry-go-round, and is always a source of much amusement on all play grounds where found. The play grounds will be covered with sawdust to protect daring trapeze artists against injury from possible accidents. It adds to the attractive appearance of the school, as well as furnishing a sensible and useful play ground for the pupils.

A movement is being made to erect a similar play ground at Irving school, but at present only three or four swings have been secured. It is expected that other schools in the city will also have more equipment in the course of time, as the plan to encourage healthful sports by providing proper apparatus is meeting with favor.

ORIGINAL DISPLAY MODELS

That Were Exhibited at the Greatest Fashion Show Chicago Ever Staged.

Designers of fashion from the various factories vied with each other in their effort to produce a better garment of greater individuality—naturally the best workmanship and material that could be purchased is embodied in these garments. The many new features characteristic of these creations were sanctioned by 50,000 merchants, (figures by courtesy of The Chicago Tribune) who heralded this Fashion Show as the Greatest of all time Displays.

Autumn being the season when greatest fashion changes occur, the practical sartorial ideas originated by these designers without the assistance of foreign designers, have given these models a world-wide fashion reputation. Inspirations for smart fall garments have been taken from many periods and countries. These and many other distinctive creations are now on display in our ready-to-wear section on the second floor.

Authoritative Statement on Styles for Fall and Winter 1916-17

High Waist Line

The waist line is slightly above the normal in some of the tailor suits and separate coats.

Collars

Collars are high and hug the throat closely. The military collar, high fur collar, or collar turned back with wide reverses to show the vest, are prominent. Collars of every variety from the high standing collar to the cape and sailor collar are different—very different—this fall both on the coats and suits.

Pockets

There is a pronounced vogue for long tunic and various pannier ideas. One cannot refrain from mentioning pockets of every description.

Trimming

Fur, braid and embroidery are used lavishly for trimming. All skirts have some fullness at the top with a tendency to push the fullness to the back. Modified circular, pleated effects and many gored models are used. Skirts distended by stiffening at the top of the back or below hip and knee continue to be worn.

Sleeves

Sleeves are snugly fitted at the top, set in at the regular or extreme shoulder line, though certain types show unexpected fullness at the top.

Separate Coats

Separate coats are made in both straight and flare effects. With the exception of sport coats and "sport" these days is an elastic term, coats are 45 to 48 inches long.

Skirt Widths

The question raised as to the width of the skirts to be worn with the three-quarter length coat is answered by saying that heavy materials do not exceed from three to three and a half yards, the wider skirts of lighter weight material, know no limit to the yardage.

Suitings

Broadcloths, velour de laine, velours, duvetines, gaberdines, zibelines, jersey and pile fabrics are the materials generally sought for. Features of the suits are the longer coats and skirts. It may be safely affirmed that the skirt within a few inches of the instep is no longer rated dowdy.

Extremely Smart and Strikingly Original are These New Modes

Modifications of kimono styles and bell sleeves or those with a fullness caught at the cuffs, are seen on the utility coats. There is a call for coats of mixtures, tweeds, velours, checks and plaids, wool velour, broadcloth and pile fabrics. Fur trimmings have a liberal use, priced $35.

Very Popular

Two-piece suits of broadcloth, trimmed with fur with three-quarter length jackets, semi-fitted backs and fronts; fur bands, short tabs, cloth outlinings, and some with fur collars. Deep pockets on the coat, some are fur trimmed. The long sleeves are set in at the normal arm hole, some with tab trimming; cloth belts trimmed with fur bands; belts made of fur run through cloth slashes on the full skirts (no two alike) priced up to $50.

Irish Emigration Figures.

Dublin, Ireland.—The Irish emigration returns for the first half of 1916 show a still further decrease on the 1915 figures. In the half year there were 3,073 emigrants, which is 988 less than for the corresponding period last year. The decrease is solely due to men, as emigration of women increased by over 600. One hundred and fifty-two emigrants had their passage prepaid to America. As usual Ulster has most emigrants and Munster least.
